There is an axiom in business circle which suggests that hard skills will get a person an interviews, but soft skills will land that person a job. Ability to express oneself clearly and confidently is a very important personality trait and this is given the highest importance during the evaluation process in recruitment. Many people fail miserably in this aspect even though they have very strong technical skills. Communication skills can be categorized into Oral Communication skills and Written Communication skills together with Social Skills. This workshop will not only provide a platform for discussion on various aspects of Soft Skills but will also highlight the needs of soft skills.
